

FREEDOM IS NOT NEGOTIABLE

PREVENTATIVE ANTI-HUMAN TRAFFICKING YOUTH CONFERENCE

Human trafficking is a global issue affecting many youths in our society. Yet, society is not aware that human trafficking is a growing problem. CCIF Malta, having been working on the field of anti-human trafficking since 2012 believes that it is our duty to bring awareness to people, especially youths, the most vulnerable to trafficking and yet the people with the most power to generate positive change against human trafficking; be it helping themselves when they find themselves in such situations, or helping their peers who potentially become victims.

Through our FINN Youth Conference, youth participants will be able to increase their awareness about the danger of human trafficking through two creative workshops and speeches delivered by victims of human trafficking themselves as they will discuss about their real life experiences.

At the end of the conference, youth participants are expected to have obtained deeper understandings about the important elements of human trafficking and how to identify risk factors of human trafficking, which can eventually help prevent them from becoming victims of this vicious human trafficking issue.
